1.0 PURPOSE

The purpose of this Standard Operating Procedure is to describe the overall process for training employees so that each person involved with the manufacture, processing, packing or holding of Supplement Factory products has the education, training and experience or a combination thereof, to enable that person to perform their tasks to the required standards.

This procedure will also cover general training approach for non-manufacturing personnel.

2.0 SCOPE

Departments, Job Functions	This SOP applies to all Supplement Factory employees in the Ashford Manufacturing Site and Warehouse.
Limitations	This SOP does not apply to third-party manufacturing sites. This SOP does not apply to any operations carried out before the effective date of this procedure.

3.0 DELEGATION OF ACTIVITIES

Delegation	Responsible parties in the procedure may delegate an activity but retain responsibility for the outcome. Delegation can only be made to personnel who have been appropriately trained.
	Activities delegated to external contractors must be documented in a contract.

4.0 PROCEDURE

4.1. TRAINING REQUIREMENTS

	Responsibility	Instruction
4.1.1	Supplement Factory Management	All employees and staff of Supplement Factory must be trained in accordance with the appropriate regulatory guidelines on personnel qualification requirements, which ensure that each person engaged in manufacturing, packaging, labelling or holding of food supplements and other Supplement Factory products must have the education, training or experience to perform the person's assigned functions. Similar requirements are in place for non-manufacturing employees.
4.1.2	Supplement Factory Management	In addition, qualified personnel must be assigned to supervise the manufacturing, packaging, labelling or holding of food supplements and other Supplement Factory products. Each supervisor must be qualified by education, training or experience to supervise.
4.1.3	Supplement Factory Management	Each employee will have a training record which will contain: • Job description • Completed competency tests (SOP understanding, internal training) • Records of external training • Copies of relevant educational certificates.
4.1.4	Technical	There is a site training matrix which lists SOP training requirements against general roles e.g. Production, Warehouse, Design, etc. This is used to ensure the appropriate competency tests are completed by relevant staff.
4.1.5	Technical	The site training matrix must be updated as new or revised SOP's are issued.

Training Overview

4.1.6	Supplement Factory Management	Employee training reviews are performed by the line manager as part of the regular appraisal process. This must be performed annually as a minimum. This will identify training needs and allow individual training objectives to be established for the employee.
4.1.7	All staff	Training records must be updated immediately following training. Records must be signed and dated by the trainer and employee.
4.1.8	Technical	Training records must be reviewed regularly as part of the internal audit programme to ensure they are well maintained and appropriate for the employee's job function.
4.1.9	Technical	Training files must be retained and archived securely, even when the employee has left the business. They must be kept in compliance with the company document control procedure.

4.2. INDUCTION TRAINING

4.2.1	Supplement Factory Management	Induction training must be completed as soon as is reasonably practical after the new employee starts. SOP 1.05 New Starter Process and Induction Training must be followed.
4.2.2	Supplement Factory Management	The Induction Checklist must be completed. This is an appendix to SOP 1.05.
4.2.3	Supplement Factory Management	Employees involved in the manufacture, packaging, labelling or holding of food supplements or other Supplement Factory products must receive personal hygiene training prior to beginning work and basic level operational training relevant to their duties on day one. Documented basic GMP training must be carried out as soon as reasonably practical.
4.2.4	Supplement Factory Management	Training effectiveness will be verified by testing following the training. This will be in the form of a multiple choice test for a training presentation or the competency test appended to each SOP. Retraining will be required if the pass mark is not achieved. Completed tests will be held in the individual's training record.

4.3. GMP, HYGIENE AND HEALTH & SAFETY TRAINING

4.3.1	All staff	All factory, warehouse and technical personnel including management must receive GMP training, including hygiene training appropriate to their job function.
4.3.2	All staff	Training effectiveness will be verified by testing following the training. Completed tests will be held in the individual's training record.
4.3.3	Technical	Trainers must be suitably qualified through education, experience or successful completion of GMP training courses.
4.3.4	Supplement Factory Management	All personnel will receive certificated level 1 hygiene training.

4.4. OPERATIONAL TRAINING

4.4.1	Technical Supplement Factory Management	Operational training requirements for each role are decided by the department manager based on the individual experience and ability. SOP's will form the basis on this training.

Training Overview

4.4.2	Supplement Factory Management	Operational training is defined by three levels: • Basic level Initial or first day training suitable for new employees or temporary workers under close supervision, suitable to allow the employee to perform tasks safely in compliance with GMP. • Standard level Normal level of skills required to perform day to day activities in their designated duties. Operations can be performed under general supervision. • Advanced level Advanced level tasks requiring significant technical knowledge & training. Demonstrable aptitude to solve problems and willingness to take on additional responsibilities. All operations can be performed unsupervised. Individual is able to train others.
4.4.3	Technical	All SOP's have an associated competency test consisting of multiple choice questions based on the contents of the SOP which should demonstrate an understanding of the SOP. According to the nature of the SOP the competency test may also state that practical 'on the job' assessment is required following a period of 'on the job training'.
4.4.4	Supplement Factory Management	On the job training must be delivered and assessed by managers/supervisors or those that have achieved advanced level in the subject/task. The SOP is used as a training aid.
4.4.5	Supplement Factory Management	The trainee must demonstrate full understanding of the skill or task and also demonstrate the necessary capability to perform the task. This is recorded by the Trainer and trainee on the appropriate section of the competency test sheet.
4.4.6	Supplement Factory Management All staff	Full training is achieved by completing all parts of the SOP competency test. The completed competency test filed in the individual's training file as a record of training.

Training Overview

4.4.7	All staff	Competency tests can be marked by Technical or by managers/supervisors who have successfully completed their own competency test.
4.4.8	Supplement Factory Management	Advanced level training attainment is achieved following an appraisal. Managers must make an assessment based on their experience and observations of the individual. Justification must be recorded on the training record and the statement signed and dated by the manager and employee.
4.4.9	All staff	All personnel must ensure their operational training is refreshed as often as necessary to maintain full capability.

4.5. NON-SOP TRAINING

4.5.1	All staff	Training of documents or subjects not covered by an SOP must be documented and filed in the individual's training file.
4.5.2	All staff	This type of training will be used for training new manufacturing methods and Master Manufacturing Records, etc..
4.5.3	All staff	Any retraining required as a result of a quality incident must also be documented and filed in the individual's training record and a copy included with the CAPA (Corrective and Preventive Action) file.
4.5.4	All staff	A training declaration (Appendix 2) or other appropriate document e.g. QR 019 Meeting Attendance must be completed and signed by the trainer and trainee.

4.6. SUPERVISORY TRAINING

4.6.1	Supplement Factory Management	It is a requirement that all supervisory staff will be suitably trained or qualified to perform their assigned duties.
4.6.2	Supplement Factory Management	Supervisory training needs will be identified during the appraisal process and training provided as necessary to ensure employees are developed to meet personal and business needs.
4.6.3	All staff	Any external development training must be recorded in training files.

4.7. APPRAISAL SYSTEM

4.7.1	Supplement Factory Management	Managers must, as a minimum, carry out appraisals of all staff who directly report to them on an annual basis.
4.7.2	Supplement Factory Management	At each meeting there must be a review of objectives and performance of the individual.
4.7.3	Supplement Factory Management	At each meeting new objectives must be set as necessary and in line with business objectives.
4.7.4	Supplement Factory Management	There must also be a discussion on any training and development issues that may have been identified.
4.7.5	Supplement Factory Management	Training plans can be documented as a result of these discussions.

4.8. TRAINING FOR TEMPORARY STAFF

4.8.1	Supplement Factory Management	The use of temporary staff must be authorized by Supplement Factory Management. A training record will be created for each temporary employee.
4.8.2	Supplement Factory Management	Temporary staff must sign a copy of Visitor's Rules and Declaration Form (SOP1.02) on their first day and each instance thereafter when they are required to work. They do not need to sign the form every day if they are working continuously over a period of days.
4.8.3	Supplement Factory Management	All temporary staff must receive documented basic GMP and personal hygiene training prior to entering warehouse or manufacturing areas. This training must be verified by completion of a test which is filed in the temporary employee's file.

Training Overview

4.8.4	Supplement Factory Management	Temporary employees must receive operational training on all functions that are relevant to their work. This should involve the relevant SOP's for the area they will be working in sufficient to ensure their health and safety and to ensure their actions do not impact product quality. Completed competency tests are filed in the temporary employee's file.
4.8.5	Supplement Factory Management	Temporary staff must only be allowed to work on tasks they have been trained in. They must be closely supervised.
4.8.6	Supplement Factory Management	Temporary staff training records must be archived and kept in accordance with the company documentation control procedure.
4.8.7	Supplement Factory Management	Supplement Factory will endeavour to have a pool of available temporary workers that will be trained and familiar with Supplement Factory procedures.

4.9. NON-ENGLISH SPEAKERS

4.9.1	Supplement Factory Management	All employees must be able to read, understand and prove their competency in all SOP's in the company language of English.
4.9.2	Supplement Factory Management	Employees who do not have English as their first language must demonstrate their English comprehension as part of the recruitment process.
4.9.3	Supplement Factory Management	Potential temporary employees must demonstrate English comprehension through their completion of competency tests following basic training.

4.10. TRAINING EVALUATION

4.10.1	All staff	Any external training or organized in-house training should be evaluated using the form in Appendix 3. This data should be reviewed by the appropriate manager to facilitate improvement.
